

Yorkshire Synod

Briefing

Number 160

17th September

The Season of the Meeting

Rather than it being the start of Autumn, it is the start of meetings season in the Yorkshire Synod, for individual churches, groups, pastorates and for the denominational church. I'm sure that many of you will be heading to one or many of these vital events which make up the life of our church and where we listen to the mind of God as we guide his Church forward. Well we are no different in Yorkshire Synod, as I have recently attended the Ministries, Financial Resources and Children & Youth Work committee meetings, and later in the month the Synod's Pastoral and Council meetings. Please pray for the work of these Synod Committees as they themselves discern God's guidance.

The United Reformed Church in Sheffield are pleased to invite you to
The Induction of Rev'd Johnny O'Hanlon

Local arrangements for parking will be circulated in advance of the service.

All these meetings lead to the Synod meetings being held on Thursday 9th and Saturday 11th October (mentioned below in the Briefing), but before that Synod meets on Saturday 4th October for a celebration – to welcome and induct Revd Johnny O'Hanlon into the Sheffield team. The invitation to join him is here and I hope to be able to see as many of you as possible at Central URC in Sheffield as we mark this special moment for Johnny and the Sheffield URC team.

If you have any news of welcoming people into Church, stories of celebration and hope or even notices of future events, please let me know by dropping me a line at clerk@urcyorkshire.org.uk and I'll showcase it in the next edition, due out on Thursday 2nd October 2025.

Online Quiet Day: Playing with God

27 September 2025 10:30am to 4:00pm

Venue: Online, Ticket: Free

Led by Leslie Bailey -(opening prayers),
Mark Argent and Ann Barton, and Jane Weedon (closing prayers).

The day draws its theme from part of the gospel for 27 September, which records Jesus predicting his death (again) and saying to the disciples: “Whoever welcomes this little child in my name welcomes me; and whoever welcomes me welcomes the one who sent me. For it is the one who is least among you all who is the greatest.”

For some that carries an invitation to come to God “like a child” — which could be heard as “praying with one’s inner child”. For others that can feel like a more difficult space — particularly if there are uncomfortable memories or associations to childhood.

In biblical times those words could have been heard quite differently — perhaps as a challenge to the idea that power gets someone closer to God (or God is on the side of the powerful).

The invitation of the day is to spend some time in prayer away from our screens, and in discussion with others, to attend to what God may be saying to us.

The readings for the day are Psalm 91:1-6, 14-16; Jeremiah 24:1-10 and Luke 9:43b-48. For this quiet day we’ll focus on the gospel:

43b And they were all amazed at the greatness of God. While everyone was marvelling at all that Jesus did, he said to his disciples, 44 “Listen carefully to what I am about to tell you: The Son of Man is going to be delivered into the hands of men.” 45 But they did not understand what this meant. It was hidden from them, so that they did not grasp it, and they were afraid to ask him about it. 46 An argument started among the disciples as to which of them would be the greatest. 47 Jesus, knowing their thoughts, took a little child and had him stand beside him. 48 Then he said to them, “Whoever welcomes this little child in my name welcomes me; and whoever welcomes me welcomes the one who sent me. For it is the one who is least among you all who is the greatest.”

You may have heard that the 2025 Advent Pack from the URC's Children and Youth Work Team is an alternative Advent calendar, a beautiful box of postcard-sized cards — one for each day in Advent — and that the final call for orders has gone out. Alternating images of things associated with Christmas and characters from the Christmas story, there are fun facts and activity ideas on the reverse.

Designed to be reusable, displayed like bunting or in other ways, the box even includes a DIY nativity set. You may have heard that Advent Unpacked! is a gift for local URC churches to give to families, produced by the URC Children's and Youth Work and Communications teams.

You may have heard that the price has been reduced (and, if you didn't, get in touch with your CYDO+!)

And you may have pre-ordered your Advent Packs at <https://urcshop.co.uk/2025-urc-advent-kit-preorder/> Brilliant!

Now what to do with them?

This session is an opportunity to meet with some of the writers of this year's material, find out how "they" think the packs could be used in different contexts and with different groups.

Come with your questions — and your ideas — and get prepared to share the joy and excitement of

Frontier Youth Trust

All ages welcome | Sign up for workshops on the day

This Autumn's Synod has a different feel about it as we are doing it in two parts. On the evening of Thursday 9th October we will be discussing the financial aspect of Synod life via Zoom, then on Saturday 11th October at St Andrew's, Roundhay we look at the missional, justice and youth engagement aspect of our Synod's life.

There are three workshops available and we invite Synod Representatives to join two of them during the day. They are:

Exploring Life, Love and Faith with Gen Z – Matthew Willmott, Frontier Youth Trust

Each generation understands the world slightly differently than the one before. How are Gen Z understanding life stages and in particular, what it means to be in a relationship? How can the church support, challenge and walk alongside young people as they make their way in the world? This is just the starting point of a conversation that we need to be open to having.

Discipleship in Divided Times - Joint Public Issues Team (JPIT)

How might Christians engage in a political and social mainstream that is shifting into more populist and openly far-right views and expression? How can our conversations with friends and family reflect a sensitivity to these influences, build trust across difference yet challenge extreme-right policies that undermine democracy and Christian values? The Joint Public Issues Team will lead a workshop highlighting current trends in society, the impact these have on the most vulnerable, and how Christians can engage effectively in changing times.

The Gift of Presence: How children and young people can transform church life – Tony Harris and Tracey Winfrow

What difference does it make when children and young people are truly part of the life of the church—not just present, but participating, shaping, and belonging? This workshop invites you to explore how the presence of young people can breathe new life, perspective, and purpose into your church community. Through stories, reflection, and discussion, we'll uncover the theological, relational, and missional impact of engaging younger generations. Whether your church is growing with young people or longing for their return, this session will challenge and encourage you to see them not as the church of tomorrow, but as vital members of the church today.

Everyone will be able to attend 2 of the 3 on offer and choices can be made on the day, but we hope that by providing this information in advance, churches and synod representatives can share, discuss and consider their options. Those who are not synod representatives, but with an interest in the topics may also wish to attend. Everyone is welcome to come along and there will be creche facilities (unsupervised, in the main meeting hall) for babies and small children.

Disability Awareness Sunday

Janet Eardley, the Mission Programmes Manager for Through the Roof, a charity partner of the UFC has been in touch about Disability Awareness Sunday, which this year is on Sunday 28th September. Through the Roof are offering a short video of disabled Christian author Emily Owen that can be played in churches, and Emily has also written the materials for use in services too on the theme of 'Made in the image of God'. All the resources are free and include suggested hymns and songs, prayers, etc, as well as Emily's video and ideas for the talk. The material, though made for Disability Awareness Sunday, can be used on any Sunday: the important thing is to spread the message of welcome and inclusion for disabled people in our churches.
